USING THIS GUIDE

On the following pages you will find a step-by-step guide to painting the Citadel miniatures showcased in this article. In each case you will see a quick reference guide to painting the featured model. While these guides make a great starting point, you will find far more detailed information on the Citadel paints, tools and techniques featured here in How To Paint Citadel Miniatures. For best results we heartily recommend that you keep your copy near to hand while following these guides.

To one side of every page that showcases a model's paint scheme you will see our quick reference guide. This is laid out in numbered steps and gives you the basic information required to paint your models so that they match those shown.

The top part of each step of the reference guide points out the Citadel paint, wash or glaze in use, while the bottom refers to the specific type of Citadel paintbrush that is being utilised. The small band of colour on the left of the brush name is colour coded to match the ends of the brushes in your Citadel Brush collection, making it even easier to pick the correct tool.

CHAPTER 1

DAEMONS OF KHORNE

Daemons of Khorne are merciless warriors, unrelenting in their need to spill blood and claim skulls. They are endless slaughter given form, and think only of bloodletting and murder. Who can say how many heroes have perished at upon their hellblades, or how many armies have been trampled into ruin by their brass hooves.

DAEMONS OF CHAOS

HOW TO PAINT CHAOS DAEMONS

BLOODLETTER OF KHORNE

Bloodletters of Khorne are the gore-hungry footsoldiers of the Blood God. They gather in regiments, chanting their brutal praises to Khorne. In the fashion of the warriors they are believed to have once been, each unit of Bloodletters marches beneath a gore-soaked banner upon which the names of their victims are inscribed. When loosed to the fray, Bloodletters sprint from one enemy to the next, hacking the foe apart before springing away in search of new victims. With each fresh kill, the Bloodletters loose great shouts of victory that echo across the battlefield and chill the souls of all who hear.

Each Bloodletter carries a Hellblade, a jagged iron sword whose blackened blade glows with heinous enchantment. A wound from one of these weapons can slay even the hardest heroes, draining their soul and sucking dry their shrivelled corpse. The Hellblade is formed from the Bloodletter's own essence and can never be discarded nor torn from its grasp. Each life taken by the Hellblade strengthens the Bloodletter, fuelling both its power and rage. As such, a Bloodletter is even more terrifying at a battle's close than its start, having gorged itself on the slaughter it has caused, overwhelmed by the need to take more skulls for Khorne.

BLOODCRUSHERS OF KHORNE

The most favoured of all Bloodletters are granted the honour of becoming Bloodcrushers. Bloodcrushers are Khorne's shock cavalry, a deadly combination of battle-frenzied Bloodletter and the unstoppable crushing mass of a Juggernaut of Khorne. When the daemonic legions go to war, bellowing hordes of Bloodcrushers stampede across the battlefield, trampling Khorne's foes into unrecognisable pulp.

When battle begins, Bloodcrushers relentlessly hurl themselves at the strongest point of an enemy's lines. Here they hack, maim and gore their way through the strongest troops the foe can muster, exulting Khorne's name with savage joy for each enemy slain. After this initial charge, the Bloodcrushers become totally overwhelmed by their burning need to claim yet more skulls for the Blood God. The Daemons often quarrel at this point, with both Bloodletter and Juggernaut trying to charge towards a different chosen foe. Such contests of wills are commonly brief. The need to spill blood overwhelms any attempt at rational selection, and sends the Bloodcrushers rampaging towards the nearest foe.

CHAPTER 2

DAEMONS OF TZEENTCH

Like their sorcerous master, Daemons of Tzeentch are ever in flux and revel in the glorious raw stuff of Chaos. They fashion this Warp-stuff into spells and bursts of roiling energy, partly to vanquish their foes, but mostly because they find it endlessly amusing.

PINK HORRORS OF TZEENTCH

Pink Horrors are identified by their luminescent pink skin and their squeals of high-pitched laughter. Spellcasting fills Pink Horrors with joy, and they emit especial merriment as eldritch energy screeches from their upraised hands. When wounded, a Pink Horror exhales a final lunatic cackle before rapidly decomposing into an ectoplasmic blob of gyrating magic, which swiftly alters colour and divides into two Blue Horrors – diminutive replicas of their parent Daemon.

Blue Horrors are sullen and malicious, like evil-tempered children, and sneer and grumble their way through a battle. Once spawned, they add a deeper whining note to the incessant chortling of the group as they attempt to grapple with enemies and squeeze the life from them, before inevitably wandering off in search of fresh entertainment.

HOW TO PAINT DAEMONS OF CHAOS FLAMER OF TZEENTCH

Flamers are capable of a fair turn of speed, expelling gaseous ichor through the fungoid 'skirt' at their base to bound and leap across the ground with considerable mischievous gusto. A Flamer uses its blazing limbs to hurl bolts of magical flame at the foe. This is not fire in its truest sense, but a roiling cloud of Chaos energy. It does not burn, but warps reality. A Flamer's victim might briefly feel invigorated, before collapsing into a writhing puddle of flesh.

Possessed of only rudimentary and instinctive minds, Flamers are finely attuned to the thoughts of a Lord of Change, who for their part view them as expendable resources. As such, it is not uncommon to see swarm after swarm of Flamers throw themselves unthinkingly against seemingly impregnable defences, overwhelming the foe as much with sheer weight of numbers as the blankets of flame that herald their advance.

CHAPTER 3

DAEMONS OF NURGLE

Daemons of Nurgle are rotting abominations, ever surrounded by a pestilential miasma and swarms of plump black flies. They are tasked with spreading the Plague Lord's foul blessings across an unsuspecting mortal world, and carry out their work with deathless seriousness.

HOW TO PAINT CHAOS DAEMONS

PLAGUEBEARER OF NURGLE

Plaguebearers are the rank and file of Nurgle's legions, crafted from the soul-stuff of mortals who have been slain by Nurgle's Rot. What little of the Plaguebearer's skin that can be seen beneath the discharge of innumerable sores is tinged with suppurant greens and vile browns. Pus weeps continuously from its single bloodshot eye and from the Daemon's forehead protrudes a single horn – the mark of Nurgle's Rot.

Units of Plaguebearers are surrounded by a constant drone. This thrumming sound is created by the attendant hosts of plump black flies, and by the endless counting as the Daemons attempt to calculate their master's ever-changing requirements. It is all but impossible to tally anything amid the chaos of battle, though this in no way discourages the Plaguebearers from their efforts. They are the embodiment of the need of mortal creatures to impose meaning upon an uncaring void.

HOW TO PAINT CHAOS DAEMONS NURGLE SOUL GRINDER

When a Daemon's physical body is slain, he can surrender his true name to the Forge of Souls. The dark bargain thus sealed, the Daemon's crippled essence is bound to a mighty Warpmetal hulk. Thus is he reborn as a Soul Grinder.

Legend tells that if the Soul Grinder can garner sufficient mortal souls, the Forge of Souls frees the Daemon from his mechanical prison and returns him to the existence he once knew. Should a Daemon remain a Soul Grinder too long, his original identity begins to fade, subsumed into the machine that he serves. After a few millennia of the binding it is gone entirely. Thus can a Daemon come to be eternally damned, even as he seeks the same fate for mortals.

CONSTRUCTING THE SOUL GRINDER

Chad Mierzwa is our resident hobby expert, and was responsible for assembling and painting the Nurgle Soul Grinder for the Hobby team's Daemons of Chaos army.

Chad converted this Soul Grinder to match the Plaguebearers of Nurgle, stippling on a coat of Liquid Green Stuff to the armour plate to give a rough, worn finish. Chad then made some circular indentations in the drying Liquid Green Stuff using the round end of a paintbrush. In this manner, he was able to create pockmarked details in the surface of the armour. To further this effect, he then added small balls of Green Stuff to look like pustules, creating an unhealthy, diseased look to the Soul Grinder's armour that could be embellished during painting. Finally, Chad glued a tentacle from the Chaos Spawn kit in place as if it were a distended tongue writhing forth the Soul Grinder's mouth.

CHAPTER 4

DAEMONS OF SLAANESH

Slaanesh's vassals are at once the most beautiful and the most abhorrent of Daemons. They delight in delivering pleasure and pain in equal measure, for they know that either course can deliver their prey into the Dark Prince's welcoming embrace.

DAEMONS OF CHAOS

HOW TO PAINT CHAOS DAEMONS

DAEMONETTE OF SLAANESH

Daemonettes are the most numerous of all Slaanesh's servants. They are shrouded in a hypnotic glamour, seditious magics that bestow their repulsive features with perverse beauty. Daemonettes surge across the battlefield on lithe legs, the whorls of pigment from their gaudy tattoos forming dizzying fractals of colour and shape. Capering troupes of the perverse creatures dance from foe to foe, claw-hands slicing through flesh and armour to bestow a savage and sensation-filled death upon the foe.

When a battle is done, Daemonettes stride amongst the fallen, and bring their souls to Slaanesh's palace in the Realm of Chaos, where those who made pacts with the Dark Prince and fought well in battle are anointed as Daemon Princes. Those who foreswore Slaanesh or proved craven upon the field, are damned to dwell in the otherwordly Palace of Pleasure for an eternity of torment. For worshippers of Slaanesh this place is paradise unbound by moral stricture, where all cravings, no matter how sickening, can be fully indulged. For those luckless enough to have entered lightly into their diabolic pact it is a hell that never ends.

DAEMONETTE OF SLAANESH

PREPARING THE DAEMONETTE

Chris Peach is one of the Hobby team's triumvir of dedicated army painters and was responsible for producing many of the Daemons of Chaos showcased in this painting guide.

After assembling the Daemonettes, Chris applied a layer of Skull White Spray as the colours he intended to use suited a lighter shade of undercoat. Planning on painting the Daemonette models with a pallid flesh tone, Chris opted to basecoat them with Ushabti Bone using the Citadel Spray Gun – a swift and efficient way to apply the appropriate foundation layer to the largest areas of each model.

EXALTED SEEKER CHARIOT OF SLAANESH

Seeker Chariots are not subtle creations. As the straining steeds urge the chariot to full speed, swirling shapes sear the air with unholy hues and the metal axles screech in a disharmony akin to the wailing of tormented souls. Indeed, to stand against such a machinery is not simply a contest of arms, but a struggle of wills that shakes the boundaries of sanity. When the chariot finally crashes home, the Daemonettes dance from yoke to spar, laughing as their disembowelling strikes weave bloody trails in the air.

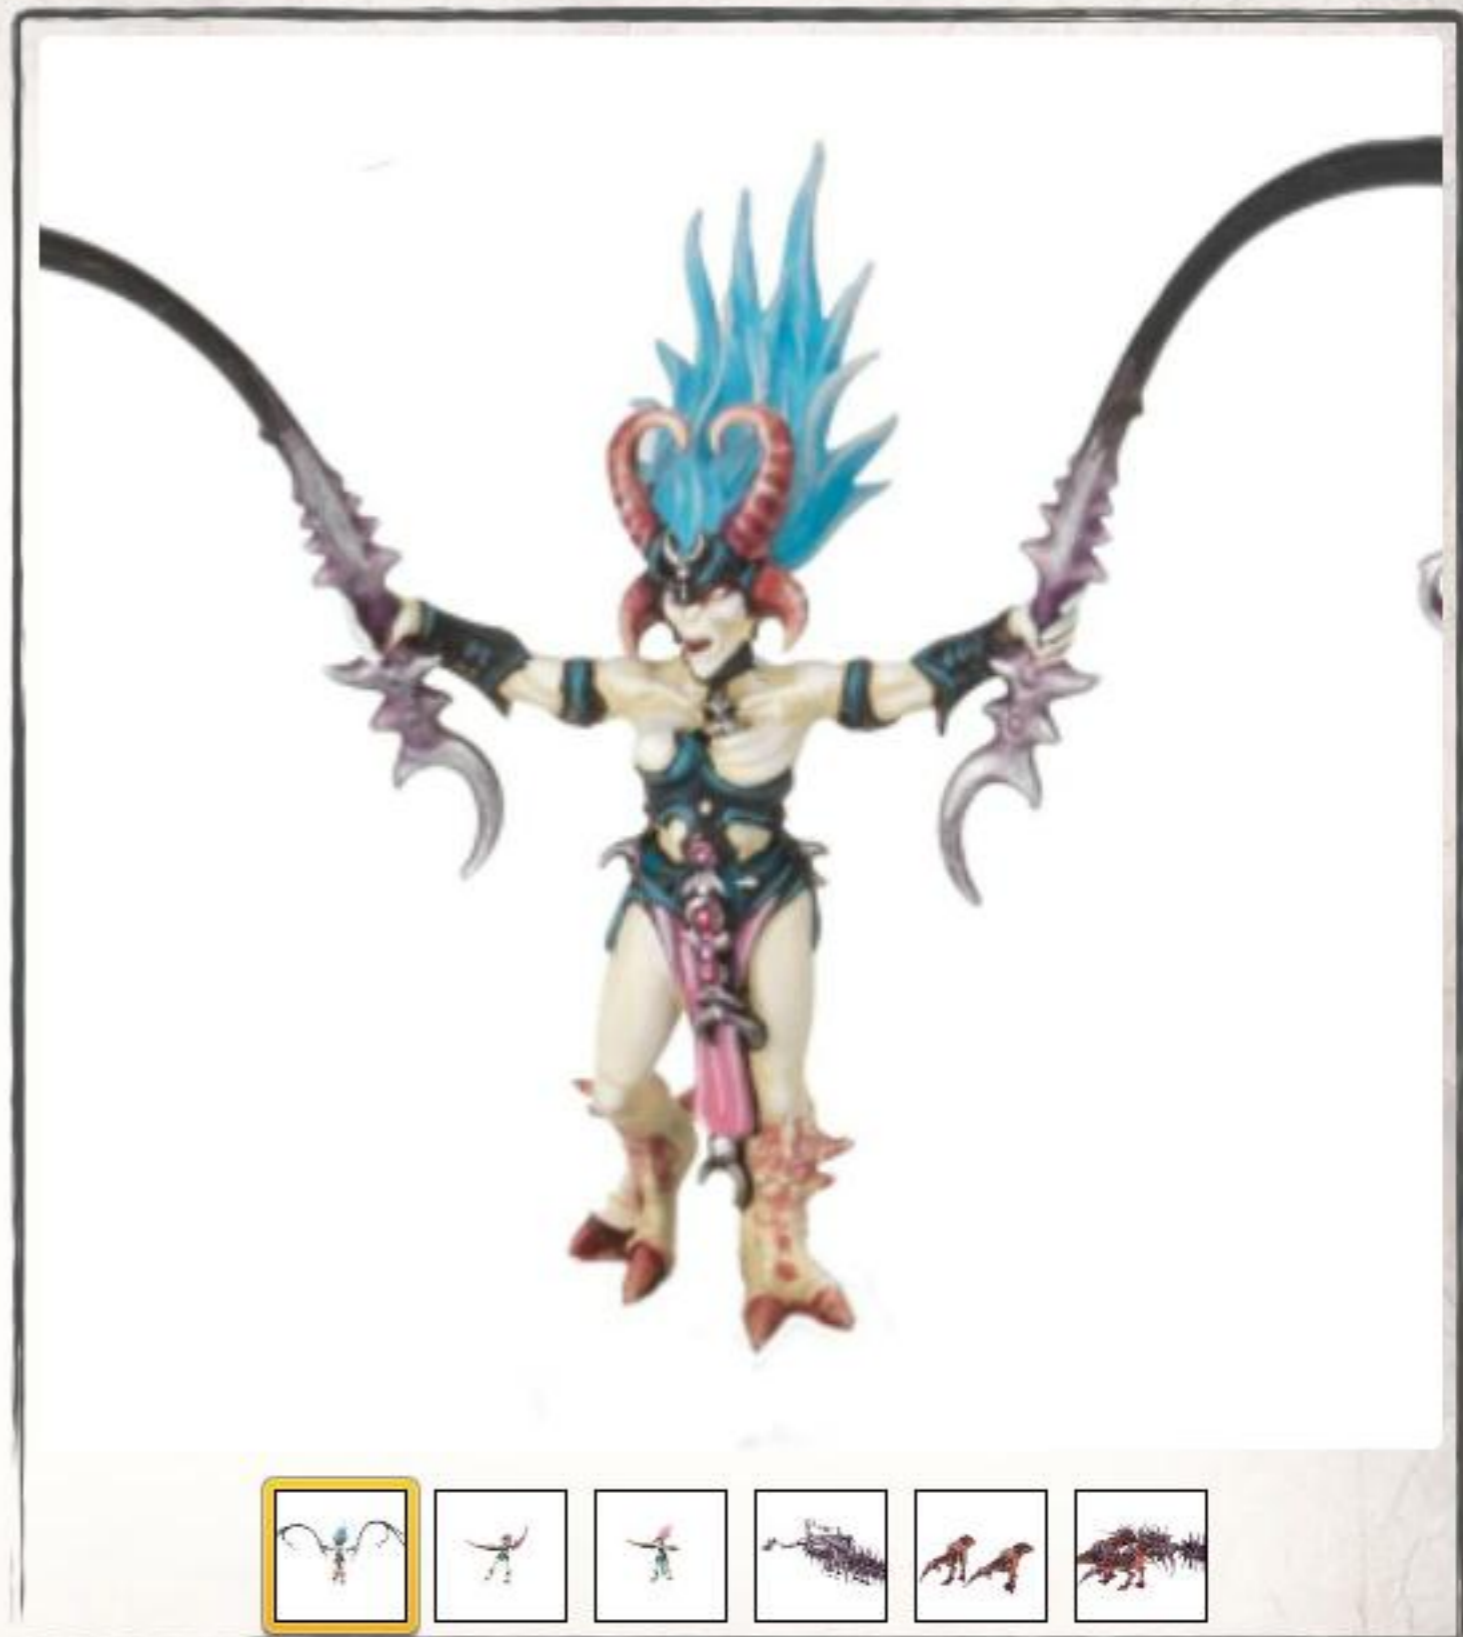

DAEMONS OF CHAOS

EXALTED SEEKER CHARIOT OF SLAANESH CONSTRUCTION

When building the Exalted Seeker Chariot of Slaanesh, Chris split the model into six sub-assemblies: the Exalted Alluress, the two Daemonettes, the pair of Seekers and the chariot itself. This enabled him to paint each sub-assembly more easily; granting him easier access to the areas that may otherwise have been quite hard to reach with a paintbrush had he assembled the model in its entirety. He mounted each sub-assembly on an old paint pot using some adhesive putty before painting it. After having painted the six sub-assemblies, Chris simply glued them all together to create the finished model.
